

MATH LEADERSHIP GROUP

with Dr. Ryan Flessner

This year's Mathematics Leadership group will focus on problems of practice in mathematics classrooms. Each month, we will explore common issues faced by educators as they work with young mathematicians. After learning several ways to reflect on our practice, we'll begin looking at our own dilemmas. Tapping into the community that we build throughout the year, we will use our own mathematical experiences, expertise, and resources as we think about continually improving our teaching practices.
